

We're just a group of trendsetters, enthusiasts, creators, thinkers, students, connoisseurs, amateurs, peers, strangers, patrons, critics, scholars, fans, skeptics, artists, and collectors of art.

Whether contemporary art is your job, passion, or hobby—or if you're just plain curious, membership to CAMH's Young Patrons is a fantastic way to explore arts and culture in Houston. Members enjoy a year's worth of events that offer opportunities to see, create, and share contemporary art with other art-interested individuals.

CAMH's Young Patrons launched in the 2016-17 Season with a series of events that included a private tour of the 2016 Texas Contemporary Art Fair led by CAMH Director Bill Arning, an Art Collecting 101 workshop at Jonathan Hopson Gallery, a Dance House Fitness class co-hosted by Hermann Park Conservancy's Urban Green, and a happy hour with CAMH Curator Dean Daderko and visiting lecturer Veronica Roberts.

The group enters its second season with a slate of vibrant events that go inside Houston's art world. Listed here is a selection of events and programs offered in the 2017-18 Season—with more to come! Members also receive additional perks like reciprocal museum benefits at participating institutions, discounts at The Museum Shop, the opportunity to purchase discounted tickets to select special events at the Museum, and more.

Membership dues underwrite the Museum's innovative roster of exhibitions and programs, the majority of which are offered free of charge to the public throughout the year.
