The Contemporary Arts Museum Houston presents Steel Lounge Underground, March 27, 2009, 8-11PM

Houston, TX—Visual arts and sound converge the last Friday of every month to make beautiful music together at the Contemporary Arts Museum Houston's Steel Lounge Underground. Presented with DJ Pooks and Josh Zulu, Steel Lounge Underground combines a rotating trio of musical artists who simply do what they do best—play music. Join us March 27, 2009, 8-11pm for this month's talented lineup: Jaekim, Ceeplus Bad Knives, and Young Mammals. There is no charge for admission; cash bar.

About the Musical Artists:

Jaekim describes the sounds he loves as “The Sun, Moon, and Stars coming together in unison, to enjoy the sounds of chaos and order, simultaneously!” With influences too numerous to name, Jaekim credits MA & POP for his music-loving ways. Formerly known as DJ Theory, he worked with DJ Sun on the Soular Grooves radio show. “Mi, sampling percussion, Mai Self on keys & controllers, and Eye Ay Yai-Yai on turntables” combine together to form the one and only Jaekim.

DJ Ceeplus Bad Knives has been turning tables for more than 20 years and likes to take chances. So get ready for some early days of punk rock and Afrika Bambatta with a lot of hip-hop, space jazz, and J. Coltrane mixed in. A member of SXSW's alumni, Ceeplus rocks the party in style, combining art, music, and performance to form an experience that promises to lead us from late nights to early mornings.

Young Mammals declare, "Look, you can eat now, or starve later." Their style is rooted in some of the greatest music there is: Velvet Underground, The Pixies, Weezer, David Bowie, and The French Kicks. Band members Cley Miller on Guitar, Carlos Sanchez contributing Vocals/Guitar, Iram Guerrero on Drums, and Jose Sanchez on Bass Guitar, are here to rock the music.

Steel Lounge Underground, held the last Friday of every month, showcases Houston's diverse and talented musical artists by bringing together a variety of genres to play live in the Museum. The event attracts just as diverse an audience, representing all walks of life. During the event, the audience is free to explore the exhibitions on view. Make this your first stop the last Friday of every month.
