Job Description | Communications Coordinator

About the Museum
Contemporary Arts Museum Houston (CAMH) presents extraordinary, thought-provoking arts programming and exhibitions to educate and inspire audiences nationally and internationally.

Established in 1948, CAMH is one of the oldest non-collecting contemporary arts museums in the country, and is internationally known for presenting pivotal and landmark work by artists recognized as the most important of the 20th and 21st centuries. CAMH’s mandate is to be present, to connect artists and audiences through the urgent issues of our time, and to adventurously promote the catalytic possibilities of contemporary art. CAMH’s programming, both in and beyond the Museum, is presented free to the public, and advocates for artists’ essential role in society.

Description
The Communications Coordinator is a full-time, entry level exempt position at Contemporary Arts Museum Houston in the Learning and Engagement department. The position works closely with the Marketing and Communications Manager to provide local, regional, national, and international audiences with accurate and compelling information and content about the Museum’s exhibitions, programs, partnerships, activities, and general news. The Communications Coordinator is instrumental in crafting and maintaining CAMH’s social media presence, email marketing initiatives, website updates, and communications archive. The successful candidate will bring a spirited, rigorous, contemporary, and humorous approach to engagement with local and international audiences that is rooted in understanding the Museum’s audiences, trusting artists, and passion for artist’s societal impact.

This full-time entry level role requires living in or near Houston, Texas. Typical hours for this role are 9AM–5PM, Monday–Friday, although additional hours on nights and weekends will occasionally be required in support of Museum events and department duties.
